

BOY HAD STOLEN BRASS

JACK KING, WHO CLAIMS GRAND RAPIDS AS HIS HOME, ARRESTED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON BY OFFICER STONE—HAD ATTEMPTED TO SELL JUNK TO JOHN COOPER.

OTHER IMPLICATED IN AFFAIR

Boy says That He Was Given the Metal by a Local Man and Was Promised $1 if He Would Sell it—Former Sheriff Gave Officer Tip.

Trying to sell railroad brass to John Cooper, ex-sheriff of the county, proved to be the downfall of Jack King, whose home is Grand Rapids, Mich. There is about 100 pounds of the metal. Yesterday morning the boy took the junk to John Cooper and attempted to sell it. The ex-sheriff told him that he would buy it and that if he would come back later he would pay him. Mr. Cooper then notified Officer Stone and the boy was arrested. King says that he came to town Sunday and that a man he met at the north end told him that if he would sell some junk for him that he would give him $1. He described the man but could not give his name. The officers believe that the boy is telling the truth and this morning Officer Stone took him to the north part of town in an attempt to find the person who had given the boy the brass. The officers believe that from the description given by King, they will be able to find the guilty man. The prisoner is only 20 years old. Sheriff Maze has telegraphed the Grand Rapids police to find out anything they know about King.

IT IS JUDGE CORWIN

By Agreement of Parties Judge Rawley Appoints B. F. Corwin to Hear the Case of the I. & W. R. Against John Triplett.

The morning was occupied in trying the case of the Indianapolis & Western Traction Co. vs. John Triplett, an owner of land crossed by the company's right of way near Harmony. Mr. Triplett has appealed from the valuation of $1,300 fixed as damages by the appraisers, and has taken the matter into court. He asks $3,500 as the damages accruing from the crossing of his land by the right of way.

Judge Rawley was not present this morning, and with the consent of both parties to the suit, he appointed B. F. Corwin special judge to hear the case. Mr. Triplett was upon the stand much of the morning.

FOOT BALL AT PURDUE

Begin Work Sept. 20, with One Hundred Candidates upon the Field.

One hundred candidates are expected to appear on Stuart field at Purdue University next Friday afternoon when the first initial practice for this fall is held at the Lafayette Institution under the direction of Coach Leigh C. Turner. The material that is now in school is regarded as so excellent that the Boilermakers are already claiming that they will have the best eleven ever. Although practice for the varsity does not begin until Friday, Sept. 20, the class teams have already been indulging in practice and will continue to do so next week. In this way every member of the squad will have been toughened by the time regular varsity practice begins.

On the opening day Coach Turner will get the men together, give them an earnest talk and then drill them in preliminary work. The new coach is regarded as a wonder at Purdue and great things are expected by him. Athletic Director Nicol has already aroused considerable interest among candidates for the various class teams and the rivalry in this respect will be more pronounced than ever. Forty freshmen attended the first practice yesterday. A. H. Freigang of Newark, N. J., was elected captain and H. L. Hillmeier of Cincinnati was chosen for managerial honors.

W. W. J. LOWERS HIS RECORD

In Special Race Against His Time of 2:11 3/4, three Great McHaffie Sire, Paces a Mile at the State Fair in 2:09 3/4—Performance Considered a Wonderful One.

OFF TRACK FOR SIX YEARS

On Friday at the State Fair grounds W. W. J., the noted pacing stallion owned by S. O. McHaffie, of Gilt Edge Stock farm lowered his race record to 2:09 3/4, going the mile with ease. He is the second horse in the state to accomplish such a feat after being off the race track for six years.

He had been given only a short preparation, but he showed such wonderful speed that Mr. McHaffie decided to start him against his record of 2:11 3/4 made on the Terre Haute track six years ago.

On the same day his son Kid J. owned by James Buis, took a record of 2:12 3/4 in a winning race of five heats. This proves that W. W. J. colts inherit great speed and race horse qualities.

AN ASTOUNDING REPLY.

Perhaps the most remarkable reply ever made by a corporation to a suit instituted by the government was made recently by the Anthracite coal trust. The government had brought suit to disband the various companies that had entered into an agreement to raise the price of coal. The companies, through President Baer denounced the government as impudent and inquisitive. This was bad. The Company went further, however. It declared that the rise in the price of coal was due to a promise made to Senator Hanna at the time of the great strike. According to this promise the strike was stopped and the companies paid higher wages lest the Republican party should be defeated. The higher prices paid for labor made necessary higher prices for the product, and the result was higher cost of coal. All the reply alleges, was due to Senator Hanna and his desire to have the Republican party win. The company now accuses Roosevelt of breach of faith in attempting to bother them for what Hanna made necessary.

GRAND JURY STILL PROBING

Investigation of the Killing of the Unknown Man at Reelsville Still on—Work Probably Will Be Completed Today—Verdict Tomorrow Morning.

STRONG EVIDENCE AGAINST MEN

Although the grand jury has been in session since yesterday noon investigating the death of the unknown man at Reelsville a few days ago no return has yet been made. It is probable however that the body will complete its work this afternoon and that its finding will be made public in the morning.

Prosecuting Attorney James P. Hughes said at noon today that the investigation had been delayed by the inability to get one of the important witnesses before the jury. He said that a return would probably be made in the morning.

It is more than likely that William Fisher and Ad Mullinix, who are in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury, will be indicated for the crime. It is known that witnesses have told the grand jury that persons saw them strike him. They then followed him out of town, it is said, and on their return said that the stranger would not return. The next morning he was found dying beside the road.

The Monte Carlo Girls Big Burlesque Co., comes to the Opera House Sept. 21. This company will present many acceptable features in the burlesque line and several distinct novelties from the varieties. The opening burlesque is called "Military Maids" in which the fun runs riot from the very rise of the curtain. The comedians have "fat parts" the music is bright and catchy, the songs are up to date, and the show girls the prettiest. The olio comes next introducing Truehart—Dillon and Burke Singers and dancers—Lew Golden "The Hebrew Count." Vera Harte, Operatic Soprano soloist. John P. Burke, Eccentric Irish comedian. Annie Golden, Dainty singing soubrette. Eva Sullivan and May Burns, Novelty entertainers. The closing burlesque is a side spitting affair entitled "The Female Seminary." The chorus in this conceit presents many catchy numbers and appears in some beautiful costumes, and the comedians will endeavor to assist in sending everybody home in good humor.

LIGHTNING.

The Mystic Fluid Has Been Known to Cure as Well as to Kill.

A peculiar feature of lightning when attacking a human being is that it is known to cure as well as to kill. In one instance a man who was paralyzed on one side of his body from childhood was struck by a thunder-bolt, and after remaining insensible for twenty minutes he recovered with the full use of all his members. Another case was that of an invalid in one of the Austrian hospitals who was lucky enough to stand in the way of an atmospheric spark and was enabled without delay to leave the hospital perfectly well.

A similar occurrence took place on the passenger packet boat New York when a person who had been hopelessly paralyzed for a great many years was struck by lightning. He was so astonished by himself cured that he ran about the deck like a madman and was so crazed with joy that the rest of the passengers believed him to have become mentally unbalanced until they learned the cause of his exuberance.

The cases where persons have benefited by a visit from this heavenly power are too numerous to mention, as in a number of cases they have lost their deafness or regained their eyesight and in some cases their mental balance, and lightning really proves fatal in few cases in comparison to the number of people it touches each year. If we could provide a way by which we would not get an overdose of this most wonderful fluid, lightning would undoubtedly prove to be the long sought elixir of life, but the difficulty arises in its being beyond our control.—Denver Post.

Peculiarity of Hair.

A woman leading two children stepped into a barber shop with her charges.

"I want their hair trimmed," she said, "but not all the way round. I only want it trimmed off even. It is just the right length on the right side, but too long on the left side. I had their hair trimmed only a little while ago, and here it is noticeably longer on the left side. I don't believe it was trimmed evenly in the first place."

"Oh, yes, it was," the barber assured her. "It grows faster on the left side, that is all. Most people's hair does grow faster on that side, but it is on children's heads that we are most likely to notice it."—New York Press.

Very Nice Done.

Gallant Man (aside)—At last I have her all to myself. Now I can tell her how I love her and ask her to be mine. How shall I do it, I wonder?

Gentle Maid (behind her fan)—It is surely coming. I am so nervous and frightened. I know he is going to be terribly dramatic. I do hope I shan't have to help him up off his knees. Goodness, why doesn't he say something? I must break this horrible silence. (Aloud, recklessly) Have you ever been abroad?

Gallant Man (smilingly)—No. I'm saving it for a wedding tour.

Gentle Maid (demurely)—Why, how funny; so am I.

Gallant Man (meaningly)—Then why shouldn't we take it together?

Gentle Maid (innocently)—Possibly your wife and my husband might object to going in such a crowd.

Gallant Man (brilliantly)—The crowd wouldn't be objectionably large if your husband and my wife were husband and wife.

(Further conversation was disjointed and indistinct).—Pearson's Weekly.

Where Animals Beat Men.

"Nature faking aside," said the zoo keeper, "mice won't eat oleo. It is a fact. Lay a pat of oleo and a pat of butter side by side and in the morning the butter will be gone, but the oleo will remain untouched.

"Oh, yes, some animals are incredibly nice about their food. The otter, when living wild, will only eat one piece, one mouthful out of each fish he catches. He will land a beautiful trout, but only one bite of it from the back, just behind the neck, is good enough for him. The rest he tosses aside. This epicure often kills a dozen fine, big trout to make one meal.

"Chimpanzees have very delicate tastes. A banana or a pineapple that to you seems delicious to a chimpanzee may be revolting. His taste is keener. Grapes grown in hothouses where sulphur fumes are used as an insecticide taste all right to a man, but a chimpanzee will have none of them. "The ichneumon loves eggs. He can tell a fresh from a stale one simply by tapping the shell."—Los Angeles Times.

"Copy Reading" Howells.

The London Athenaeum says of the following Howells paragraph that it is the best sentence perhaps in any recent English book. Describing a certain ancient edifice, Mr. Howells writes and the Athenaeum quotes:

"What, in the heart of all this blossoming, was the great cathedral itself when we came in sight of it but a vast efflorescence of the age of faith, mystically beautiful in form and gray as some pale exhalation from the mold of the ever cloistered, the deeply reforested past."

Very fine, all must admit. But wouldn't that paragraph have been meat and drink to the man who used to mark up Mr. Howells' newspaper copy back at Bucyrus, O. If Howells the reporter had written that for the Bucyrus Blade he would have found it in the paper next day about like this:

"The cathedral, with flowers all around it, looks fine. It is 400 years old and needs paint."—Galveston News.

Thought Nine Enough.

The following amusing birth notice appeared in the Dresden Anzeiger: "To our seven hearty boys there came today, in God's early morning, not the wished for little daughter, but, in compensation, a pair of fine boys. We judge by this elementary event that these strenuous times demand more men than blossoms of the gentler sex, and console ourselves with thoughts of our fatherland, to which we call: "Hurrah! Hurrah! Now there are nine. Firm stand and true the watch on the Rhine!"

"To all dear friends and acquaintances and to whom else the joyous tidings may be of interest we give this notice—the last of its kind—Eduard Rost and wife."

A Bargain.

Mr. Mason rubbed the edges of the umbrella with discriminating fingers while his wife listened to the saleswoman's enumeration of its good points.

"This is $10. Isn't it?" he asked.

"Oh, no," replied the saleswoman reproachfully. "It is $9.80."

"She seems to regard the 11 cents as particularly invidious. I wonder why?" whispered Mr. Mason to his wife.

"Not at all," said Mrs. Mason, with mild heat; "nothing 'invidious' about it. Only very naturally it touched the girl not to have you perceive that you were getting a bargain."—Youth's Companion.

Cautious.

A five-year-old girl was very ill, and, noticing the anxiety of her parent, she said, "Mamma, do you think I'm going to die?"

"No, my dear," replied the mother, "we think you will soon be better."

"Well," said the little one, "I'd like to die and go to heaven on a visit if I was sure I could come back if I didn't like the place."—Chicago News.

"She is?" interrupted Henpeck. "I'll bet they've been secretly married already!"—Philadelphia Press.

NEW MEN ALREADY PLEDGED

The University enrollment is still on the increase about 200 being put through the mill last evening and this morning. The matriculation button is a new feature this year, when a student has gone down the long line of professors and clerks he is given a button, on which is printed, "DePauw '07 and '08." The fraternities are into the spike in earnest now and all likely looking men are kept busy making and keeping spike dates. The new men pledged today are: E. A Wonderful Dog. I ran a news stand at Port Jervis, N. Y. I owned a common shepherd dog which was a very intelligent animal and was of great assistance to me in the newspaper business, running across the street with papers in his mouth to customers. He attracted much attention, and he got me many new customers, for everybody liked him, he was such a business dog.

I was sick one day and not able to sell my papers. My dog came in my room where I lay in bed. He fumbled around in my pants pockets and took the keys to my news stand and ran out of the house, and the first thing I knew he had the newspaper stand opened up and doing business.

He was very clever, in making change, changing five and ten dollar bills without a single mistake, working the cash register with his paws, and everything ran smoothly until a man came up and passed him a lead quarter. My dog got mad and lost his temper entirely, and I was forced to interfere. With much trouble I managed to pull them apart.

If this dog had not had such a quick temper I would have started him in business for himself. This dog is still living.—Boston Post.

Crushed by Beecher.

Henry Ward Beecher was once approached by a young man who considered himself very clever.

"Do you know, Mr. Beecher," said he, "I've been thinking that I would settle down. Now, I like your preaching, but when I go to your church and see such men as old S. and others, grasping skinflints and hypocrites to the core, sitting there in full membership, why, the thing is just a little too much for me, and really," he added, "I cannot join."

"Well, you're right," said Mr. Beecher. "Every church has such men, and I fancy Plymouth is not free from them, and until you spoke I have always wondered why the good Lord permitted it. Now I understand."

"Ah," gurgled the young fellow, "I am glad I have thrown light on the question! What strikes you as the reason, Mr. Beecher?"

"Well," replied the great preacher, "it is permitted in order to keep such fools as you out of the churches."

The Nearest Approach.

An English tourist visited Arran and being a keen disciple of Isaac Walton was arranging to have a day's good sport. Being told that the cleg, or horsefly, would suit his purpose admirably for a lure, he addressed himself to Christy, the highland servant.

"I say, my girl, can you get me some horseflies?"

Christy looked stupid, and he repeated his question. Finding that she did not yet comprehend him, he exclaimed: "Why, girl, did you never see a horsefly?"

"Naa, sir," said the girl, "but a wansie saw a coo jump over a preshlie-pie."

Grandfather's Portrait.

A villager, intensely conceited and ignorant, but quite wealthy, was persuaded to have his grandfather's picture repainted.

The artist, not having been decently treated by the villager, drew the portrait almost in a nude form. Rolling it up, he told the man not to look at it before the coming New Year. On that day the villager ordered the picture to be hung up that he might pay it his New Year respects. As it was being unrolled he frantically waved his hands and shouted: "Wait! Wait! The old gentleman is not ready, for he is not yet dressed."—From the Chinese.

The Worth of His Money.

Not seldom in highland districts the attendance at church during unpropitious weather is but scanty. One minister, finding himself on a boisterous Sunday confronted with but one solitary auditor, who happened to be a gruff, outspoken character, took him into his confidence, with a view to propitiate him. "Will I go on with the sermon, John?" John answered gruffly, "Of course." Getting into the pulpit and leaning over it, he asked, "Will I give you the Gaelic sermon or the English one?" "Gie's baith. Ye're weel paid for 't," said John, more gruffly still.—Dundee Advertiser.

Bituminous Coal.

Shortly after the adoption of bituminous coal as a fuel in England a royal proclamation was used forbidding its use and authorizing the destruction of the furnaces of the users, who were characterized as evil doers. Scarcity of fuel, it seems, shortly compelled the resumption of its use. In the reign of Elizabeth bituminous coal was again prohibited during sessions of parliament lest the health of the members suffer thereby.—London Telegraph.

The Richest.

That country is the richest which nourishes the greatest number of noble and happy human beings; that man is the richest who, having perfected the functions of his own life to the utmost, has also the widest helpful influence, both personal and by means of his possessions, over the lives of others.—John Ruskin.

A Philosopher.

Frances Willard once wrote to a friend who had just lost a daughter: "Dear Sister Anna, how much richer are you than I! Here I sit alone without a child to die, while you are mother to an angel."

The Hat Scale.

A fifty dollar hat is a conceit. A thirty dollar hat is a confession. A two dollar hat is a sin and a shame and a perfect justification for going home to mother.—Pittsburg Post.

-any stove or range bearing this trade mark sent on approval

—hundreds are availing themselves of this astonishing offer. —why not you?

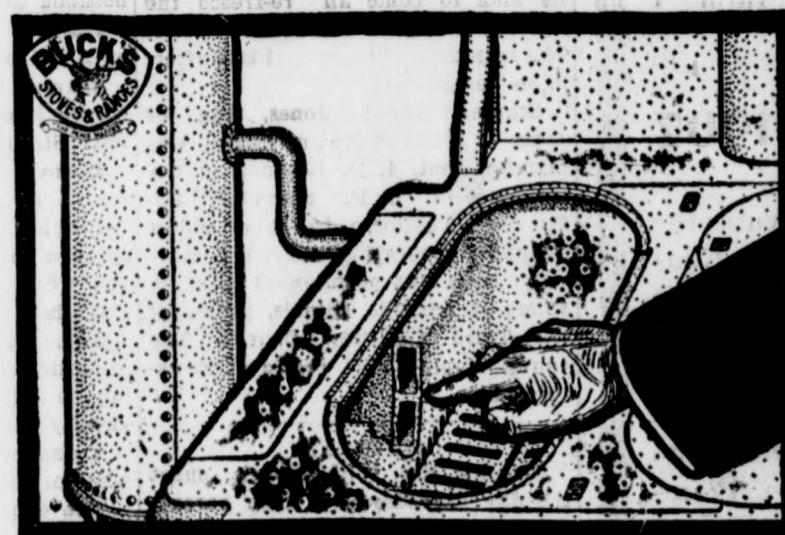

—through special arrangement with the The Buck's Stove & Range Company we are enabled to deliver to any home in the city or vicinity a Buck's range, cook stove, hard coal or hot-blast heater for a thorough approval test. —if the stove does not perform all of its functions properly—does not do all that we say it will do—we will cheerfully remove it and refund any payment that may have been made on the same. —and we will give you our written guarantee that we will do as we say we will do. —see the stoves and get full particulars to-day.

—every Buck's base-burner is a double heater—furnace as well as stove.
—by simply connecting a pipe to the double heater attachment a room above may be kept warm.

—Buck's drop draft—with extra long fingered grate—admits air the entire length of the fire-box—and under the burning fuel—thus giving a forced draft and making a quick fire—which will heat the entire top of the range.

—plenty of hot water in a home containing a Buck's steel range.—the large "L"-shaped water back—or front—gives fifty per cent. more heating surface than the ordinary apparatus. —this is one of many reasons why you should own a Buck's.

—this removable and revolving fire-pot reduces trouble and repair expense to a minimum.
—these are just a few of the many advantages found in Buck's stoves.

—just now we are offering some exceptional values in furniture, carpets and draperies.
